You probably know you can lower your taxable income by making a charitable donation, but did you know we can accept donations of soybean, corn or wheat? Here are the top 5 reasons for donating commodities versus cash:

1. Reduce federal/state incomes taxes as well as self-employment taxes (that alone could count as three reasons)
2. Deduct all of your operating expenses
3. Keep more cash in your pocket for next year
4. Reduce elevator and storage costs
5. Do something good for others (which you were probably going to do anyway)

At Lindenwood we want to help you as you help others by accepting commodity donations. You'll be making a big difference to our students.

We'll even made the donation process super simple. Enter your donation using the "other" button, and iDonate will handle it from there.
